Estonia – a cool country with a warm heart

Estonia is situated on a busy trading route on a borderline between East and West. Therefore, hospitality and friendliness towards foreigners have always been a tradition in Estonia. Different cultures that meet here have created contrasts that are worth to experience. You can catch the medieval spirit of Tallinn Old Town while enjoying the newest multimedia communication solutions. You can feel the urban sizzle of the capital and relax on an abandoned sandy beach within just an hour of driving. You can see the Soviet remains while feeling the positive transformation of Estonian economy and people.

Welcome to Estonia!

Tallinn – the medieval capital of Estonia

Tallinn's Old Town is one of the few places in Europe where medieval walls, turrets, spires and winding narrow cobblestone streets have remained mostly intact. It is inscribed in UNESCO's World Heritage List. Churches and convents, passageways and courtyards give a sense of true medieval spirit. Tallinn is a maze of contrast – medieval and yet dizzingly dynamic, small, but still very lively in its heart, buzzing with visitors and businesslike locals, but quite easygoing and relaxed.

History of Tallinn can be discovered on the traditional guided excursion or in the form of theatrical tour full of entertaining surprises and humorous interpretation of the past. Many good restaurants providing traditional Estonian and European cuisine, also exotic food can be found here. Nightlife of the capital is busy – cafés, restaurants and nightclubs are waiting for their quests until early hours of the morning.

Latvia – the “Baltic capital” of Riga and much more

Latvia’s geographical location between the East and West has historically made it attractive to foreign kings and conquerors, each leaving their cultural imprint on the country. Latvia’s capital Riga is one of the oldest, largest and most culturally diverse capitals in the Baltic Sea region – sometimes referred to as “the capital of the Baltic states”. Its historical centre belongs to the UNESCO World Heritage List because of its remarkable range and concentration of architecture. The countryside around Riga is filled with numerous castles and manors built through the centuries. Latvia has 494 km of finest white sandy beaches and it is well known for its gentle climate of the seashore.

Riga is famous for its night life. And on the next day, you can relax in Riga’s numerous street cafes to enjoy the lively city.

Vilnius has its own very special atmosphere - friendly people, cozy restaurants and green parks. It is something that you must experience to be able to tell.

Lithuania – the geographical centre of Europe

Lithuania’s beauty lies in the diversity of its landscape – rolling hills and gentle plains, green forests covering almost 30% of the country and quietly flowing rivers. The capital of Lithuania, Vilnius is the country’s biggest and most beautiful city, famous for its architectural monuments, lovely churches, narrow streets and medieval courtyards. Founded in 1323, the Old Town is now considered to be one of the oldest and most beautiful in Europe.
